DARK OAK

A Pathfinder Roleplaying Game compatible adventure for 5th-level PCs by Creighton Broadhurst and Steve Hood

Beneath the fetid roots of a noisome swamp linger the pathetic remnants of a once proud and noble tribe. Laid low by a powerful narcotic administered by their ambitious (but wildly paranoid) mistress, the lizardfolk of the Dark Oak are but a shadow of their former greatness. Now, in the fetid caverns below the slumbering body of a diseased treant she plots to bring bloody slaughter to the folk of the nearby villages before her followers forget their proud heritage and sink into a lethargy from which there is no escape.

ABOUT THE DESIGNERS

Creighton is a keen gamer who passionately believes in the Open Gaming License and is dedicated to making his games as fun and easy to enjoy as possible for all participants. Reducing or removing entry barriers, simplifying pre-game prep and easing the GM's workload are the key underpinning principles of the products he releases through Raging Swan Press. You can read his thoughts on game design at raging-swan.livejournal.com.

Creighton lives in Torquay, England where, apparently, the palm trees are plastic and the weather is warm. He shares a ramshackle old mansion with his two children ("Genghis" and "Khan") and his patient wife. Famed for his unending love affair with booze and pizza he is an enduring GREYHAWK fan.

Steve lives in the crammed back room of a friend's house in Plymouth surrounded by maps, sketches and unfinished artwork from his oft misunderstood imagination. Attending the Plymouth College of art and design he can usually be found scribbling away on a map or sketch at most times of the day, when not vigorously pursuing proficiencies in abilities no good to man or beast. An avid collector of war games models, books and general clutter, his lifetime goal is to own his very own study (preferably in a tower) filled by a small library and other paraphernalia from all over the world.
